PLUGGEDIN.COM

Do you want to know more about what your Children are watching? Would you like movie review information from a Christian perspective before you watch? Geneva would like to recommend pluggedin.com, a movie review website run by Focus on the Family. 'pluggedin.com' reviews all movies and gives them ratings on things like: positive elements, spiritual content, as well as sexual and violent content, crude or profane language. This is a valuable tool for understanding what you and your children are watching before you watch it.
